Privacy Policy

Last Updated: February 3, 2026

Financial Hope, LLC (“we,” “our,” or “us”) respects your privacy and is committed to protecting any personal information you may provide through our website, blog, newsletter, videos, workshops, courses, and related services (collectively, the “Services”).

This Privacy Policy explains how we collect, use, disclose, and safeguard your information when you visit or interact with our Services.

1. Information We Collect

We may collect personal information that you voluntarily provide to us when you:

- Fill out a contact form
- Subscribe to future newsletters
- Register for workshops or courses
- Submit comments or inquiries
- Provide information through any other form on our website

The information you provide may include:

- Name
- Email address
- Phone number(s)
- Mailing address
- Payment information
- Any comments or other information you choose to submit

2. How We Use Your Information

We may use the information collected for purposes such as:

- Responding to inquiries or requests
- Providing educational content, services, or updates
- Sending newsletters or promotional communications (if you opt in)
- Improving our website, content, and offerings
- Monitoring and analyzing website usage and trends
- Complying with legal obligations

3. Email Communications

At this time, Financial Hope, LLC does not send regular email communications. In the future, we may send newsletters and promotional emails to individuals who choose to subscribe.

You will always have the option to unsubscribe from marketing emails by using the link provided in those communications.

4. Payments and Transactions

Currently, no payments are processed through our website. If we begin offering paid products, workshops, or courses in the future, payment information may be collected through secure third-party payment processors. We do not intend to store full payment card details directly.

5. Cookies and Analytics

We may use cookies and similar tracking technologies to enhance your browsing experience.

In the future, we may use third-party analytics tools such as:

- Google Analytics
- Social media tracking pixels
- Embedded video platforms (e.g., YouTube)

These tools may collect information such as:

- IP address
- Browser type
- Device information
- Pages visited
- Time spent on the website

You may disable cookies through your browser settings, though some features of the website may not function properly.

6. Sharing of Information

We do not sell, rent, or trade your personal information.

We may share information only in the following circumstances:

- With service providers that help operate our website or services
- If required by law, legal process, or government request
- To protect the rights, safety, or property of Financial Hope, LLC or others

7. Third-Party Links

Our website may contain links to third-party websites or services. We are not responsible for the privacy practices or content of those third parties. Please review their policies separately.

8. Children's Privacy

Our Services are intended for adults only and are not directed to children under the age of 13. We do not knowingly collect personal information from children.

If you believe a child has provided personal information, please contact us so we can remove it.

9. Data Security

We take reasonable measures to protect your personal information. However, no method of transmission over the Internet is 100% secure, and we cannot guarantee absolute security.

10. Your Privacy Rights

Depending on your location, you may have the right to:

- Request access to the personal information we have about you
- Request corrections or updates
- Request deletion of your personal information
- Opt out of marketing communications

To make a request, please contact us using the information below.
